Letter of Recommendation:

Under Canvas started a camp here near Pigeon Forge almost 3 years ago and opened last year fully. They went out of their way to make sure I was involved with the road work and made sure that everything was acceptable to us that lived on the right of way. The guys that did the initial construction on the camp were the friendliest group of workers I could hope to meet, from the road builders to the camp builders and once the camp became operational, the people in charge of the camp made sure the road was maintained and were very friendly and exceptional people towards me and what I felt. I would recommend them to anyone who deals with them. The place where they put the camp was constructed on my father in law's farm and they were a perfect fit to it, they didn't destroy the grounds with construction and did their very best to insure it looked like the camp was always there. I couldn't be more pleased.
